"German Syrup"

My acquaintance with Boschee's German Syrup was made about fourteen years ago. I contracted a cold which resulted in a hoarseness and cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbath days. After trying a physician, without obtaining relief I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received quick and permanent help. I never hesitate to tell my experience. Rev. W. H. Haggerty, Martinsville, N. J.

STRANGE SIGHTS.

Scenes Witnessed in London's Streets a Century Ago.

There were certain dangers and inconveniences walking along the streets. The finest dress might be ruined by the carelessness of a dustman or a chimney-sweep; the custom of exposing meat on open bulkheads led to many an irreparable stain of grease.

Bullies pushed the peaceful passenger into the gutter—it was a great time for street swaggers; barbers, blew the flour into wigs at open doorways, causing violent wrath among those outside; mad bulls careered up and down the streets; men quarreled, made a riot and fought it out before the traffic could go on; pickpockets were both numerous and dextrous; footpads abounded in the open squares of Lincoln's Inn, Bloomsbury and Portman; highwaymen swarmed on all the roads; men servants were insolent and rascally; the noise in the leading streets was deafening; in a shower the way became impassable from the rain-spouts in the roofs, which discharged their contents upon the streets below.

We, who now object to the noise of a barrel-organ in the street, or a cry of milk or a distant German band, would be driven mad by a single day of George II.'s London streets. Hogarth has touched the subject, but only touched it.

No one could do more in a picture than indicate the mere fringe of this vast subject. Even on the printed page we can do little more than the painter. For instance, the following were some of the more common and everyday and all-day-long noises:

Many of the shopkeepers still kept up the custom of having a 'prentice outside bawling an invitation to buy! To this day butchers in Clare market cry out at their stalls all day long: 'Rally up, ladies! Rally up! Buy! Buy! Buy!' In the streets of private houses there passed a never-ending procession of those who bawled things for sale.

Here are a few of the things they bawled—I am conscious that it is a very imperfect list. There were those who offered to do things—mend chairs, grind knives, solder pots and pans, buy rings or kitchen stuff, rabbit skins, hair, or mend rusty swords, exchange old clothes and wigs, mend old china, cut wires—this excruciating, rasping operation was apparently done in the open—or cooper casks.

There was next the multitude of those who carried wares to sell—as things to eat and drink—sausage, barley broth, rice and milk, turnery, Shrewsbury cakes, eggs, butter, lily white vinegar, hot peasecods, rabbits, birds, pullets, gingerbread, oysters, honey, cherry ripe, Chaney oranges, hot codlins, pippins, fruits of all kinds, fish, taffety, tarts, fresh water tripe, tansy, greens, mustard, salt, gray peas, water cressos, shrimps, rosemary, lavender, milk, elder buds or thidgs of domestic use—lace, ribbons, almanacs.

Also ink, small coal, sealing wax, wood to cleave, earthenware, spigots, combs, buckles, lantern, powder pots, brooms in exchange for old shoes, things of horns, Holland socks, woolen socks and wrappers, brimstone matches flint and steel, shoe laces, scissors and tools, straps and the thousand and one other things which are now sold in shops.

The bear-ward came along with his animal and his dogs and his drum, the sweep shouted from the house-top, the ballad singer bawled in the road, the tumbler and the dancing girl set up their pitch with file and drum. Nobody minded how much noise was made.

In the smaller streets the good wives sat with open doors, running in and out, gossiping over their work; they liked the noise; they liked this perambulating market, it made the street lively, it brought the neighbors out to talk and it pleased the baby.

Then the wagons went ponderously grinding over the round stones of the road, says Harper's Magazine, the cart's rumbled, the brewers' sledges growled, the chariot rattled, the drivers quarreled, cursed and fought. The late Mr. Dowell spoke of the continual murmur of London as of Niagara afar off. A hundred years ago he would have spoken of the continual roar.

Good as an Alarm Clock.

Mail carriers in Morocco are said to avoid the risk of losing their places by over sleeping by tying a string to one foot and setting the end of it on fire before going to sleep. The string, they know from experience, will burn so long and when the fire reaches their foot it is time for them to get up.

Will Sadly Lack Birthdays.

There are many people now living who will have only one birthday to celebrate for nearly twelve years to come. This strange circumstance is due to the fact that they were born on Feb. 29, and to the further fact that the year 1900 will not be a leap year.

The World's Islands.

The number of islands large and small, in all the oceans of the world amount to 100,000. The smallest inhabited island is that on which Eddy-stone lighthouse stands. At low water it is thirty feet in diameter.

Our Naval Force.

The total force in the naval service afloat in 1890 was 53,359 officers and men, of whom 30,020 were between the ages of 15 and 24, 17,310 between 25 and 35, 5,150 between 35 and 45, and 870 above 45 years of age.

One of the finest opals in the world is worn on his cap by the Chinese minister at Washington. It is as large as a pigeon's egg, and is surrounded by diamonds. The value of the cap, with its ornaments, is placed at $5,000.

So great has been the development of the petroleum fields in Peru that pipe lines have been run from the main wells to the coast. The opinion is expressed that the Peruvian field will soon be able to supply the demand of all the west coast of South America.

The forms of sea life in the upper portion of the ocean waters may descend to a depth of 1,300 feet or so from the surface, but there then succeeds a barren zone, which continues to within 300 to 350 feet from the bottom, where the deep sea animals begin to appear.

The citizens of Chelan, Wash., are building a dam across the Chelan river so as to secure a navigable low water depth and admit of steamers reaching that point from the lake. The damming of the river it is said, will raise the body of the lake six or seven feet. The lake is sixty miles long and from one to three miles wide.

The revised edition of the German Bible has been published at last. After eighteen meetings of eleven days each, the revision committee produced the so-called proof Bible of 1893. After two years allowed for criticism the final revision began, and the last conference was held in 1890 at Halle by all who had taken part in the theological and linguistic work.
